EMERGENCY PROCEDURE

Announcements will be preceded by a distinctive two-toned signal. In the event of an emergency evacuation we will ask all spectators to listen very carefully to the public address announcements which will direct you to the evacuation route you should take.
 An evacuation may concern one or more stands in the Stadium. If the evacuation does not affect your stand, please remain where you are unless directed otherwise.
 Please respond quickly, but calmly, to the announcements and to the requests of the Stewards and Police Officers to ensure a safe evacuation of the Stadium.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Players, Directors and Staff of Bolton Wanderers Football Club wish to make clear our abhorrence of all forms of discrimination.

Any fans who are caught abusing players or fans because of their race, gender, age, disability, religious belief or sexual orientation will face arrest and may be prosecuted.
 Bolton Wanderers celebrates diversity and asks you to support your club. Should you encounter any form of this unacceptable behaviour please email the club at feedback@bwfc.co.uk

IMPORTANT SAFETY NOTICE

In order to comply with Football League safety directives, Bolton Wanderers must ensure that supporters remain seated during matches.

Supporters from both sides are therefore asked to refrain from standing for long periods of the game, it spoils it for others around you, and is a safety hazard. Everyone wants to enjoy themselves, but please understand the club's priority is to ensure the safety and well being of all spectators.

THE MANAGER

DOUGIE FREEDMAN

Since our last home game against Wigan, we have made two successful trips to Yorkshire.

Both trips to Huddersfield and Doncaster resulted in satisfying victories in a professional manner.

The game against Huddersfield saw both sides have periods of ascendancy, and although Huddersfield put a lot of balls in to our penalty area, we defended resolutely throughout. We got on top in the last 20 minutes in what was a very demanding game and we managed to get a late winner through Joe Mason's opportunism.

At Doncaster on Tuesday the atmosphere was a totally different one and we changed our shape in order to exploit their system. That worked very well for us in the opening 25 minutes when we scored twice and could have had a few more.

Doncaster scored a very good goal from a free-kick and from there on in it became a very end to end game which is quite unusual.

Once again, we owe our victory to everyone sticking to their task and our general defensive resilience. Our work in our own penalty area has been exemplary in recent times and only spectacular goals and very good finishes have found the back of our net.

This has put us in a very positive frame of mind for the remaining games, starting today against Barnsley.

I'd like to take this opportunity to welcome Danny Wilson, the staff, players and supporters of Barnsley Football Club.

For us, we have to be as professional as we have been away from home recently. We don't want any slip ups from here on in.

Our fans can anticipate some changes in the starting line-up today, as the last two away games have placed a huge physical demand on the players.

We were all pleased to see Joe score the winning goal at Huddersfield and it is unfortunate that the end of his 93 day loan period is today. Therefore this will be his last appearance for us this season, but it has been a good experience for all parties and we have been very happy with his attitude and professionalism in our recent run of form. We wish him well.

As you may well be aware it is the 25th anniversary of the Hillsborough disaster, with today's games kicking off seven minutes later than normal in recognition of the lives that were lost on that tragic day. It is entirely fitting that the anniversary of the occasion should be marked in this way and I'm sure that all fans will honour the silence that is due to take place today.

Enjoy the game.

NEWS BOARD

GARY SPEED MEMORIAL 10K FUN RUN

A fun run is set to be held in memory of former Bolton midfielder Gary Speed.

Due to take place on Sunday 13 July 2014 in Colwyn Bay, the run will start from Colwyn Bay Football Club at 11am and will follow a 10K route before finishing back at Llanellan Road in time for the World Cup Final which will be shown in the club lounge.

Gary's father Roger is a patron of the club itself, with he and his wife Carol set to get the race underway having given their permission for the event to be held to remember their late son.

The run is open to all with an entrance fee of £10, while runners are also encouraged to raise money for charities through sponsorship.

Those involved are asked to wear their team's shirt so that as many football clubs as possible are represented.

For those interested, please email gscbfc@gmail.com for more details and to receive registration and sponsorship forms. Overnight accommodation can also be booked through the run's sponsors by visiting www.visitconwy.org.uk.

CLUB HONoured BY MILITARY

Family, friends and comrades of Corporal Jack Stanley were present at Wanderers' recent home match against Wigan Athletic to thank the club for their recent support.

Pictured before kick-off are WO2 Jolley, LCpl Jones, QRH Simon Wray, Brenda Wilson and Rachael Stanley who made a presentation to club chaplain Phil Mason of a framed QRH away shirt worn by Jack himself, a QRH plaque and a QRH sports tie to express their gratitude to Bolton Wanderers for their efforts and time afforded to the family during the last two years.

A devoted fan of the Whites, Jack joined the Army in 2003 and was allocated to 20 Platoon Burma Company before joining The Queen's Royal Hussars.

A keen sportsman both before and during his military career, he spent his early years playing for the Junior Whites before joining his Regiment's football team.

Having been deployed with his Regiment to Afghanistan in early 2012 however, Jack was badly injured as a result of an IED strike and was flown to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham but due to the extent of his injuries, he passed away on April 8 of the same year.

Speaking regarding the presentation, club chaplain Phil Mason said, "It was very touching that the family and friends of Jack wanted to do something like this. Jack was part of the Bolton Wanderers family who sadly lost his life all too soon and made the ultimate sacrifice.

"It has been important to offer such support to his family over a period of time. Our thoughts and prayers are with all those who are close to Jack and we too remember those who have given so much in all our armed forces."

PROSTATE CANCER APPEAL SUCCESS

The club would like to thank supporters for their donations in our Prostate Cancer Appeal bucket collection at our recent home game against Wigan Athletic which raised over £1,000.

THE SKIPPER

ZAT KNIGHT

It's going to be a tough match this afternoon against Barnsley – they're a team who have got a lot to play for in the final weeks of the season and they'll be relishing today's game against us.

They did lose in midweek, but they'll be determined in the final few games to put in performances that will hopefully keep them in the division.

On the other hand however, it is a big game for ourselves as we're keen to continue our good form of late. As a team, our main objective now is to push up the table during the last few weeks and ensure that we finish as highly as possible to stand ourselves in good stead for next season.

Naturally it is frustrating that we've finally found our feet, but the manager has said previously that earlier on in the season, we would have perhaps lost the past few games that we have played and that's testament to the team and the hard work that has gone on behind the scenes.

Sometimes it isn't easy in games in this division – looking at Tuesday night against Doncaster, we should have killed the game off early on and once they had a goal back, we were forced on the back foot a little bit but we stuck together and ground out a result.

Given our start there, I think we expected to go on and score a few more goals but it wasn't to be – at the end of the day though, we got the three points and that's all that matters.

We had a similar game at Huddersfield last Saturday – they pushed us all the way, but the manner in which we managed to snatch the win was very pleasing and shows that fighting spirit that we have in the camp at the moment.

As a player, it has to be said that you sometimes take more pleasure out of a dramatic win like that than a game in which you score a few goals, but we'll take victories in whatever way shape or form.

It was also great to celebrate Joe Mason's goal in front of the fantastic supporters we had at Huddersfield last weekend – our fans have been brilliant during the course of the season and have backed us wherever we've been.

It will also be a shame to see Joe return to Cardiff after today's game – he's been a real asset to the squad and he settled into the team straight away. He'll naturally be a loss, but hopefully his departure will give encouragement to others to step up to the plate and stake their claim for a place in the starting eleven.

It's been great to have Jermaine Beckford back on the training field – he's done well when he's come off the bench in recent weeks, although he was disappointed that he didn't put away the chance he had against Doncaster on Tuesday.

We know what he's capable of and that he'll definitely score more than he'll miss – he can't dwell on what has already happened and that's the kind of mentality that we try to have across the board.

It will be nice to be back at the Reebok this afternoon after two games on our travels and we'll be aiming to put on a good performance for you all to hopefully pick up all three points.

We need to ensure that we don't get complacent – Barnsley are a team that shouldn't be underestimated and we need to go out there this afternoon and carry on what has been a great run of results in recent weeks.

Thank you as always for your continued support and enjoy the game.

POST-MATCH REACTION

Dougie Freedman on bwfc.co.uk

"I feel very proud of the players today. For 80 minutes we were by far the better side. We created numerous opportunities, played on the front-foot and got stuck in right from the off. We never gave Wigan a minute's peace."

Adam Bogdan on bwfc.co.uk

"I think Ali Al-Habsi definitely kept them in the game, and of course if you don't score and relieve the pressure, mistakes can happen and they punished us for it with the equaliser. I felt like we performed very well and we are disappointed not to keep a clean sheet and win the game."

Uwe Rosler on wiganlatics.co.uk

"I'm disappointed with the performance because we had top players out there, international players, and we weren't at the races. On the other hand I'm happy with the way we changed our game in the second half and with the way our substitutions helped us to get into a position whereby we could have won it in the last minute."

ALAN HUTTON

A PLAYER WHO BOASTS OVER 12 YEARS EXPERIENCE IN THE PROFESSIONAL GAME ACROSS THE SPL, PREMIER LEAGUE AND EVEN SPAIN'S SEGUNDA DIVISIÓN, ALAN HUTTON JOINED WANDERERS ON AN INITIAL ONE MONTH LOAN DEAL BACK IN FEBRUARY BEFORE EXTENDING HIS STAY UNTIL THE SEASON'S CONCLUSION A FORTNIGHT AGO.

THE BIG INTERVIEW

An experienced and instantly recognisable figure across both the Scottish and English game, Hutton is a man with an impressive back catalogue. During his career to date, the 29-year-old has developed a reputation as a no-nonsense full-back, even pitting his wits against the likes of Cristiano Ronaldo and featuring in the Champions League on a regular basis.

Having made the move to the Reebok Stadium little over six weeks ago, the Glasgow-born defender admitted that the opportunity to join the Whites was one which he simply couldn't turn down.

"When Bolton came in for me, it was a bit of a no brainer," he exclusively told the official matchday programme. "It was a great chance for me to come to a big club with a great history and to hopefully get some games under my belt.

"I've been desperate to play, and coming here has allowed me to do that and hopefully it will also help me to improve me as a player too."

As for how it all started for Hutton, the Scot explained that there was never any doubt as to where his career was heading from a very young age.

"Growing up, my dad used to take me watching Rangers a lot and it just all really stemmed from there - he definitely had a big impact on my career as a whole, just from taking me to Ibrox as a kid to supporting me along the way, he's been fantastic and I wouldn't be where I am without him.

"Being able to watch Rangers play on a weekly basis was amazing and a big part of my decision to try and eventually become a professional."

He added: "While I was growing up, there were so many great players that played for Rangers, but particularly people like Brian Laudrup and Paul Gascoigne were amazing to watch as a youngster.

"Playing with my mates, everyone would try and be those kind of players and attempt to model their game on them because they were fantastic and so talented."

Having been playing the game during his early years, Hutton's growing affiliation with Rangers simply fuelled his desire to turn his dreams into reality, with the Glaswegian being handed the opportunity of a lifetime at the age of 14 - a place in Rangers' youth set-up.

"It was a dream come true when they scouted me," he explained. "I played for local teams while I was at school, but then Rangers picked me up after watching me at various tournaments.

"They asked me to start training with them three times a week which progressed to me eventually signing terms as a schoolboy with them - I was over the moon.

"I'd grown up watching all these superstars in a massive stadium, and suddenly I was there on the same turf."

After impressing in the club's youth ranks, Hutton proceeded to earn his first professional contract just two years later at the age of 16 before making his first team bow against Partick Thistle in December 2002.

An unforgettable moment for the defender, the sense of occasion was one which was not lost on him, despite the pressure on his rather youthful shoulders.

"Making my debut was a bit of a surreal experience," he said. "My whole family were there in the stands cheering me on and we went onto win 2-1 which made it all the sweeter.

"I was still only so young, but playing in the team that I did was unbelievable. I was playing alongside the likes of Peter Lovenkrands and Barry Ferguson and I was still only a teenager.

"It was a bit of a dream season for me - I'd made my debut and then the team went on to win the SPL title too. It was an incredible time to be a part of the club."

Although his appearances were limited over the next few seasons, Hutton was slowly but surely enhancing his reputation at the club, with him eventually finding himself used on a more frequent basis during the 2004/05 campaign.

A broken leg sustained against Kilmarnock in February 2005 was to prove to be a bitter blow for the Scot, but not to be deterred, Hutton returned to the fold in October of the following season to regain his place amongst the Gers' backline.

An injury which he openly admits was a difficult one to accept, Hutton is adamant that it was one which left him both mentally and physically stronger in the long run.

"I was gutted when I broke my leg - it was hard to take as you worry as to whether you'll ever get back to your best, but with it happening when I was so young it was a lot easier to recover from.

"I was lucky that when I was fit again, I settled straight back into the team and I didn't look back from then on."

It was during his returning season that Hutton featured in the first of a number of Champions League clashes, making his bow in the competition against FC Petržalka 1898 before pitting his wits against Villarreal over two legs later in the campaign.

"One of the best things about being at Rangers has to be that we were more or less guaranteed to play Champions League football year in, year out," he explained.

"It was a great experience, simply with the kind of players and teams you were coming up against.

"It was fantastic for me not just because of how exciting it was to be involved in games like that, but in terms of helping me to develop as a footballer and it's definitely something that has helped me throughout my career."

It was at this time that Hutton also made the breakthrough onto the international scene, representing his country for the first of his 40 caps against Austria in May 2007.

A proud countryman, the Scot confessed that the opportunity to play for his homeland is one that he will always relish.

"I've also been lucky enough to play consistently for Scotland over the years too which is a great honour and an achievement for anybody who does so," he said.

"Being given the opportunity to walk out at Hampden Park in front of a packed crowd is just incredible – it's something that I'll never not be in awe of.

"I really have to thank Gordon Strachan for his belief in me over the past few years.

"Even though I've not been playing regularly, he's stuck by me and when somebody has that kind of belief in you, you want to repay them which I hope I have done."

With his name firmly on the Rangers teamsheet, the Scotsman's resolve was to be firmly tested in January 2008 when Premier League outfit Tottenham Hotspur tabled a bid for the defender.

An openly difficult decision, Hutton explained that the move was one that he felt he had to make at the time.

"It was difficult to leave Rangers – I'd been there for near enough ten years and it was my home as well.

"It took me pretty much the whole transfer window to decide whether I wanted to go or not, but I eventually came to the conclusion that if I wanted to become a better player, then I had to take the plunge and make the move.

"Spurs were a huge club and it was an honour to join them – looking back, at the time, it was definitely the right move for me and things were good for me at that point."

He continued. "It was a great start there as the team actually won the Carling Cup when I'd only been there for a couple of weeks and I played the whole game.

"We went on to beat Chelsea 2-1 and it was just unbelievable – I'd only been in England for a short amount of time, and already I was playing in a cup final.

"Simply playing at Wembley for the first time was fantastic, but to actually go there and win the cup is something that is up there with the highlights of my career so far."

Again however, injury was to strike the former Rangers man as he broke his foot and ultimately struggled to force his way into the White Hart Lane outfit's starting eleven once recovered.

Desperate to play, Hutton was offered a lifeline in the form of a loan spell with Sunderland – a stint which he looks back on with fond memories.

"I had to play games once I was back fit, so when the chance to join Sunderland came up I grabbed it and I had a great time up there, playing week in week out under another fantastic manager in Steve Bruce.

"I was there until the end of the season and I would have happily stayed there, but for whatever reason the move never materialised and I went back to Spurs."

Once back in the capital, the Glaswegian forced his way into contention and went on to play 31 matches for both club and country during the 2010/11 campaign.

His joy was to be short-lived however as at the start of the following season, he was usurped from the right-back position he had claimed as his own by Kyle Walker.

Facing more uncertainty over his future, there was to be light at the end of the tunnel as Aston Villa swooped to take the defender to Villa Park in the summer of 2011.

"When Aston Villa came in for me, I didn't need to think twice about my decision," he admitted. "The fact that Alex McLeish was the manager at the time made the choice even easier – he'd given me my professional debut while I was at Rangers and also for the Scotland international team, so I loved working under him.

"After my time at Spurs, I wanted to go and be with somebody who I knew well and I had that in Alex. He knew me inside out and it was the perfect move for me.

Following his fellow countryman's departure from the Aston Villa hotseat however, Hutton has proceeded to enjoy spells away from the Premier League and even the English game, with stints at Nottingham Forest and more recently RCD Mallorca.

Although disheartened that his stay at Villa Park hasn't been exactly what he would have hoped, the 29-year-old is confident that his time spent elsewhere has provided him with experience that will prove crucial throughout the remainder of his career.

"Being able to go and play in Spain in particular was amazing – it's a totally different approach over there and was something completely out of the box, but I loved every second of my time there.

"I was able to play a different style of football which I loved. I guess my experience of playing in the Champions League came in handy over there as I was already accustomed to the continental style of play.

"Any opportunities that I've had to improve my game, I've always taken – I believe that you can never stop learning in this industry."

Now sporting the white of Wanderers, Hutton has enjoyed a successful start to life at the Reebok having lost just a solitary game since his debut against Derby County last month.

Having seemingly settled into life in the North West with ease, the Scot paid tribute to his new teammates and admitted that he has high hopes for what the rest of the season holds both for the club and him personally.

He continued: "It's been fairly easy to slot into the side. I already knew Zat Knight because he's from the Birmingham area and I'd previously played against a couple of the boys.

"Sometimes it takes you a while to settle in at a new club, especially when you come on loan, but the team have made it so easy for me and I'm already comfortable around the club.

"Being here is a great opportunity for me – hopefully I'll be able to continue playing regularly and to the best of my ability which in turn, with any luck, will help Bolton climb up the league table."

THE WEEK THAT WAS

April 7, 2007

A Nicolas Anelka strike and Andranik Teymourian's brace ensured that the Whites picked up all three points and the bragging rights against Wigan at the JJB Stadium with a 3-1 win.

Having fallen behind to an early Emile Heskey strike, the Frenchman struck the equaliser a minute before the break with Teymourian ensuring that the Whites would pick up all three points with a quick-fire second half brace.

April 10, 1993

Goals from Tony Kelly and Andy Walker helped Wanderers defeat local neighbours Wigan Athletic in a 2-0 victory at Springfield Park.

A season which had already seen the Whites run out 2-1 winners at Burnden Park in the reverse fixture on Boxing Day 1992, Walker's strike was to be his only goal of the campaign as he was injured in Wanderers' next game against Swansea City.

April 12, 2004

Kevin Davies' last gasp winner in a 2-1 victory at Molineux all but secured Wanderers' Premier League status while pushing Wolves closer to the relegation trapdoor.

Having opened the scoring through Henrik Pedersen, Bolton were dealt a bitter blow on the stroke of half time as Henri Camara drew his side level. Not to be deterred however, Wanderers wore their opponents down in the second half before snatching all three points in dramatic fashion as the game headed into added time.

April 8, 1964

A man who played over 200 games for Wanderers over a six year stint with the club in the mid-1990s, April 8 marks the birthdate of legendary striker John McGinlay.

Having enjoyed stints in his homeland prior to spells with Shrewsbury, Bury and Millwall south of the border, McGinlay made the move to Burnden Park in September 1992 for £125,000 and the rest is history.

April 11, 1979

Despite finding themselves behind against Manchester United at Old Trafford, Wanderers proceeded to stun the Red Devils with Frank Worthington's brace ensuring that they ran out 2-1 winners at the Theatre of Dreams.

It was certainly a season to remember for the frontman, with him going on to finish as the division's top goalscorer with 24 strikes to his name.

POST-MATCH REACTION

Dougie Freedman on bwfc.co.uk

"The result illustrates how far we've come over the past four months. The committed and spirited performance, plus our great skill and defending, means that we deserved the three points."

David Wheeler on bwfc.co.uk

"We're coming into our stride now – we just need to keep on working hard and do our best for the fans as we head towards the end of the season. If we play how we know we can, then we'll have a good finish to the campaign."

Mark Robins on htafc.com

"We dominated the match, but again we are talking about similar fragilities. We have failed to take chances and then have not defended a corner correctly."

THE BIG PICTURE

Dean Holdsworth and Michael Ricketts celebrate the only goal of the game in a 1-0 win over the Tykes in April 2001.

The frontman notched his 21st goal of an impressive term with 56 minutes on the clock at Oakwell to help Wanderers record their 13th away win of the campaign.

A season which was concluded with a trip to the Millennium Stadium exactly a month later, the Whites went on to defeat Preston North End 3-0 in the Play-Off Final to cement their place amongst the country's elite.

CHELSEA 4-1 WANDERERS

Wanderers' under-18 side suffered a 4-1 reverse against their Chelsea counterparts last Saturday.

The hosts had opened the scoring through Kasey Palmer half way through the first period, with Chelsea captain Charlie Colkett and Ike Ugbo extending their lead following the restart.

Sam Bailey did snatch a consolation late on for Wanderers, but substitute Mukhtar Ali grabbed a fourth for the Blues in the final moments of the clash to condemn the Whites to defeat.

The game started quickly, with Chelsea's Trevor Chalobah attempting an ambitious shot that the wind carried miles over the crossbar while Bolton's first effort fell to Will Abbotts who fired into the hosts' side netting after a drop of the shoulder.

With a quarter of an hour gone the Blues' build up play produced a half volley from Colkett - the first piece of handling required from the Bolton man between the sticks, Harry Campbell.

Wanderers went close through Christoper Cvetko's free kick which flew wide of the upright, but it wasn't long before Chelsea drew first blood with 24 minutes gone as Ola Aina advanced down the left and produced a neat cross into the box which Palmer met with precision unmarked from close range to put the hosts ahead.

Both keepers then made strong saves as Bradley Collins first denied Cvetko at point blank range before Palmer, looking to double his tally, was matched by Campbell's instinctive dive and strong palm to his left.

Chike Kandi had a wild shot with five minutes of the half remaining, but off balance it cleared the netting behind the goal, while Jordan Hendrie beat his marker before shooting wide of the upright as the first period came to its conclusion.

Chelsea made two changes at the break, but it was Bolton who came out with a greater urgency and thus upping the game's tempo.

Despite a sprightly start from David Lee and Tony's Kelly's side however, it was the Blues who had the first effort of the half through Ugbo who shot straight at Campbell.

Moments later though, the Blues made no mistake as they doubled their advantage through Colkett who converted after a polished one-two with substitute Ali.

On the hour mark, another neat move from the hosts reaped dividends as another replacement Bolikiah found Chike Kandi and his wicked low driven was dispatched by Ugbo to make it three.

Wanderers almost snatched a consolation on the counter with 15 minutes remaining as Bailey made a darting ran and crossed to Abbotts, but unfortunately the frontman failed to get a clear connection on the ball at the far post.

Buoyed by the opportunity, Bailey took the initiative once more as he saw his deflected cross collected at the near post by the Chelsea keeper.

Not to be denied altogether however, Bolton secured a goal of their own five minutes from time as Bailey, a man who had been in the thick of the action, fired home in off the crossbar to extend Wanderers' record of scoring in every game so far this calendar year.

As the match headed towards its conclusion though, Chelsea regained their three goal advantage as substitute Ali powered home from the edge of the Bolton penalty area to ensure that the Blues ended the clash on a high.

WANDERERS 2-0 WEST HAM

Goals from Georg Iliev and Tom Walker earned Wanderers' under-21 side a 2-0 victory over West Ham United at the County Ground in their final home game of the season.

Coming up against a Hammers side which boasted the experienced figure of Joe Cole, Iliev opened the scoring on the stroke of half time with Walker's solo effort half way through the second period wrapping up the points for the Whites.

The visitors started strongly, with Kyle Knogle's wicked ball into the area being cleared away by Oscar Threlkeld at the death with a number of West Ham bodies lurking.

After withstanding a period of pressure from the Hammers, Wanderers showed their own worth with a well worked move between Andy Kellett and Zach Clough, but the latter couldn't get the direction needed on his shot to test Tim Brown in the West Ham goal.

It wasn't until the 14th minute that either goalkeeper was called into action, with Matthias Fanimó's thunderous volley forcing Arran Lee-Barrett to pull off a superb reflex save while Holding was forced to clear the ball away from the goalmouth.

Full-back Kellett looked set to re-enact his heroics from the team's clash with Arsenal half way through the first period as he powered downfield before seeing his effort blocked, with neither Clough nor Woodland able to force home the rebound.

As the half wore on, it was clear to see that Wanderers were slowly finding themselves in the ascendancy with Clough spurning a glorious chance to break the deadlock as he failed to get the power needed behind his effort from just inside the area with seven minutes of the half remaining.

Their determination was to finally pay off on the stroke of half time however as following good work from Clough, the frontman threaded the ball into the path of the advancing Iliev who thundered home past Brown.

Bolton almost began the second period as they ended the first, with Iliev's close range effort being deflected agonisingly wide of the upright to deny the Bulgarian his second of the game.

Following some early pressure from the hosts which included efforts from Chris Lester and Clough, the Hammers did slowly but surely work their way upfield before forcing successive corners which the Bolton defence dealt with admirably.

No sooner had they enjoyed a spell of possession however, Wanderers were back on the attack with Walker's effort being deflected over Brown's crossbar.

Clough and Iliev combined moments later as the former played a swift ball into the path of the Bulgarian, but there was just a little too much power on it and Smith was able to smother the ball to safety.

A second goal seemed to be imminent and Wanderers finally put some breathing space between themselves and their opponents with 22 minutes left as Walker powered forward before firing the ball past the West Ham goalkeeper.

No more than Bolton deserved given their dominance, West Ham made a double change in a bid to salvage a result from the game – one which almost paid dividends in the 78th minute as Nathan Mavila forced Lee-Barrett into a smart save from his powerful close range shot.

Maher however almost made it three with eight minutes left as Smith spilled his thunderous effort following a mazy run from the full-back, but the goalkeeper somehow managed to scramble the ball out for a corner kick.

Wanderers did push to extend their lead as the game drew to its conclusion with under-18 striker Jamie Thomas almost snatching his first goal at under-21 level, but the deficit was to remain at just two as the Whites ran out winners.

NEIL DANNIS

MIDFIELDER CONFIDENT OF STRONG END TO CAMPAIGN

With Wanderers entering today's clash against Barnsley off the back of successive victories on their travels against Yorkshire opposition, Neil Danns has every confidence that the team can continue their fine run of form come kick off this afternoon.

Having notched his fifth goal of the season in Tuesday's 2-1 win at the Keepmoat Stadium, the midfielder admitted that confidence is high as the Whites head into the final stretch of the campaign.

"We're on a good run right now, but it does feel like we're playing Yorkshire teams every week at the moment," he joked. "Thankfully we've won two games against opposition from those parts in the past week and hopefully we can continue that against Barnsley today."

Reflecting on his strike in the midweek victory over Paul Dickov's side, Danns explained that although he was pleased to get his name on the scoresheet, the result was all that really mattered to him.

"With my goal, it was all down to Alan Hutton who managed to get down the by-line," he said. "Thankfully I connected with it well and it went in, but for me the main thing is just getting the win and the three points.

"It's always nice to score a goal, but the team performance was really good and on another night we maybe could have had four or five goals which is testament to all the boys involved."

He continued: "For the first 20 minutes or so, we thought we were on for a really big score line but then they scored a wonder free-kick which gave them a big lift.

"Doncaster isn't an easy place to go to – they've already scalped some big teams like Queens Park Rangers, but we came away from home and we had a lot of chances to take the three points which at the end of the day is all that really matters.

"It's always a positive when you're playing good football and creating chances – early on, the movement from everybody in the team and especially the frontmen was superb and that makes the job easier for the midfielders.

"The only disappointment is that we didn't manage to score a few more goals – I hold my hands up for my awful shank at the end too, but you're not going to score them all.

"The defenders have been outstanding during the past 12 games or so and when you've got them behind you in such good form, it gives the whole team confidence.

"To be fair to Doncaster, they kept going until the very end and had a few half chances, but I don't think anybody can complain about us taking all three points."

LETTERS GAME

Barnsley had to wait patiently for their first away win since Danny Wilson's return to the club as manager, but after nearly three months of perseverance two came at once with comprehensive victories over Reading and Yeovil Town.

The Tykes produced a strong second half display in both of these fixtures to keep their hopes of Championship survival alive and their next assignment is to face a Wanderers side maintaining a good run of form which has seen them beaten at home in the league on just two occasions this calendar year.

Recent derby games at the Reebok Stadium against Blackpool and Wigan gave Bolton a possible four points from six to keep the club in a mid-table position and there are still plenty of points to play for with the end of the campaign in sight.

In last season's Reebok encounter, Craig Davies cancelled out a first half strike from his namesake Kevin to score what proved to be his last goal for the Yorkshiremen before ironically moving on to the Reebok Stadium as Dougie Freedman's first signing.

Here are some things you may or may not know about Barnsley.

B is for Brazil

When Barnsley won promotion to the Premier League in 1997, the chant 'It's just like watching Brazil' could regularly be heard as Redfearn, Hendrie, De Zeeuw, Eaden and others became cult heroes in South Yorkshire.

Last month Barnsley Museum held an exhibition to celebrate those times, other players and occasions from the past which still remain dear to the Reds faithful.

A is for Anderson

Four post war Andersons have played for Barnsley but the most famous of those is Viv Anderson who holds the distinction of being the first black player to play for England in a full international in 1978.

A talented full back at the top level and now the proud recipient of an MBE, he played for Nottingham Forest, Manchester United, Arsenal and Sheffield Wednesday making well over 500 appearances and achieving numerous honours.

R is for Redfearn

Beginning his career at Bolton as a 17-year-old in 1982, powerful midfielder Neil Redfearn went on to have a successful career which still saw him turn out in non-league circles as recently as four years ago.

A veteran of 790 league appearances, most of which came as a Barnsley player, he played in all four divisions of the league including time in the Premier League with the Tykes, Charlton Athletic and Bradford City.

N is for Norman Rimmington

90-year-old Norman is one of Barnsley's most recognisable faces behind the scenes. A former goalkeeper who played for the Tykes once the Second World War had ended, he made 27 league appearances for the club before moving on to Hartlepool United for five seasons.

A broken finger ended his career and since then he has assumed a number of roles at Oakwell over 60 years including youth coach, head coach, kitman, groundsman and physiotherapist.

S is for Scorers

Chris O'Grady is potentially Barnsley's biggest threat in front of goal for this fixture.

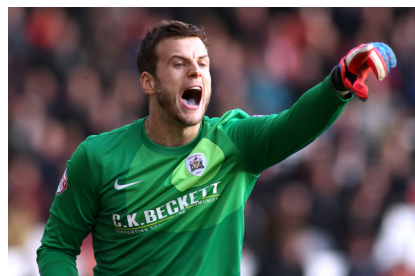

Since sealing a permanent move from Sheffield Wednesday last summer, the former Rochdale man has hit 13 goals this term including a double in the recent win at Yeovil.

L is for Luke Steele

The ex-Manchester United reserve and occasional Barnsley captain is now in his sixth season with the Yorkshire side, clocking up more than 200 appearances in the process.

The club's number one sustained a back injury earlier in the season which meant that moves were made to recruit up and coming England international Jack Butland from Stoke City.

E is for Egyptian

Much was made of Barnsley's signing of Egyptian striker Mido, but the move to bring the much travelled ex-Tottenham and Middlesbrough player to Oakwell nearly two summers ago proved to be a disappointment as the former African Young Player of the Year appeared just once in a derby game against Huddersfield Town.

Y is for Youngster

Midfielder Reuben Noble-Lazarus not only holds the record of being the youngest ever player in Barnsley's history but also the youngest ever Football League debutant when aged 15 years and 45 days he came on as a substitute for Martin Devaney in a game against Ipswich Town in September 2008.

SO FAR THIS SEASON...

After narrowly avoiding relegation to League One on the final day of last season, Barnsley will be hoping history can repeat itself as they once again find themselves scrapping for Championship survival as the 2013/14 campaign enters its final weeks.

Having been bottom of the Championship at the time of manager Danny Wilson's return to Oakwell back in December, back-to-back wins against Reading and Yeovil Town last month saw the Tykes narrow the gap between themselves and the teams outside the relegation zone.

Knowing his side needed reinforcements if they were to avoid the drop, Wilson was quick to strengthen his pack back in January, with Republic of Ireland international Liam Lawrence being of the club's more high-profile signings.

Emmanuel Frimpong and Martin Woods joined from Arsenal and Doncaster Rovers respectively, while Jack Hunt, Ryan McLaughlin and Nick Proschwitz all dropped down from the Premier League to move to Oakwell on loan in search of first team football.

While all six have enjoyed varied impacts since joining Barnsley, the club's fortunes have somewhat improved in recent weeks with half of the Tykes' eight wins this season coming since mid-February.

Facing a tough run-in after today's match which includes clashes with promotion-challenging Derby County and Queens Park Rangers, Barnsley know that they desperately need to keep putting points on the board if they are to successfully avoid the drop.

The efforts of Chris O'Grady this term have certainly been crucial for the Tykes, with the former England youth international having scored the goals that helped keep Barnsley in the division last year,

With his goalscoring form continuing into the current campaign, O'Grady already has 13 goals to his name this season and will be desperate to add to that tally while Barnsley's Championship status remains in the balance.

Barnsley's next match after today, again away from home, comes in just three days against fellow strugglers Charlton Athletic, a side who themselves are currently languishing around the lower reaches of the league table.

No doubt motivated by their recent away wins against Reading and Yeovil, Barnsley have proven they are capable of claiming maximum points when it matters against teams at both ends of the table.

With Wilson's side knowing their next two fixtures could go a long way to deciding their fate come the end of the season, Wanderers will need to be at their best to continue their fine form of late in today's clash.

O'GRADY

STAR MAN

After scoring the goals that helped keep Barnsley in the Championship during a successful six-month loan spell last season, striker Chris O'Grady is giving his all to ensure lightning strikes twice after joining the Tykes permanently in June 2013.

Born in Nottingham, the striker started his career with Leicester City and made his debut as a late-substitute against Grimsby Town in April 2003.

Leicester would win promotion to the Premier League at the end of the season, but despite impressing for the club's reserve and under-18 sides the following year, O'Grady failed to breakthrough during what proved to be a one-year stay in the top-flight for the Foxes.

The forward started the 2004/05 campaign on loan at Notts County, before spending the first half of the following season on loan at Rushden and Diamonds.

O'Grady marked his Rushden debut with a goal, and would go on to score four times for the club before returning to Leicester to compete for a place in the first team in January 2006.

Two months later O'Grady scored his first goal for the Foxes – a late winner from the bench against Luton Town.

He would also score on his first start for the club the following season in a League Cup victory against Macclesfield Town.

However, with first team opportunities still limited at the King Power Stadium, O'Grady left to join Rotherham United in a permanent deal in January 2007.

O'Grady would score four goals in his first few months at his new club, but it would not be enough to prevent Rotherham from being relegated to League Two.

After scoring 11 goals the following season, O'Grady was snapped up by Oldham Athletic in May 2008.

However, the striker struggled during his time with the Latics and after failing to score a goal for his new club, was sent out on loan to Bury, Bradford City, Stockport County and Rochdale before he joined the latter permanently in January 2010.

O'Grady finished the 2009/10 campaign with an impressive 22 goals as Rochdale won promotion to League One, and also notched a first career hat-trick in a 4-1 victory over Cheltenham.

Finding goals a little harder to come by in League One, O'Grady still scored a respectable 11 strikes during the 2010/11 season before he was on the move again, this time joining Sheffield Wednesday.

A member of the Owls side that won promotion to the Championship in 2012, O'Grady left Hillsborough to join Barnsley on loan in January 2013.

After helping secure the Tykes' Championship status with six goals, O'Grady joined Barnsley permanently at the end of the season.

As Danny Wilson's side once again find themselves in a relegation battle, O'Grady has been one of the Tykes' star performers this season.

Currently their leading goalscorer this tem with 13 goals, Barnsley will be hoping the forward can continue his impressive goalscoring form in their bid to avoid the drop.

THE BOSS

Having guided Barnsley to the Premier League for the first and only time in the club's history back in the 1990s, manager Danny Wilson returned to Oakwell earlier this season, tasked with a very different objective – to secure the Tykes' Championship survival.

Predominantly a midfielder during his playing days, Wilson started his career with his home team Wigan Athletic back in 1976.

Following spells at Bury, Chesterfield, Brian Clough's Nottingham Forest, Scunthorpe United and Brighton & Hove Albion, he embarked on the most successful period of his career when he joined Luton Town in 1987.

A League Cup winner during his time at Kenilworth Road, Wilson scored one of the club's most famous goals as he fired home the Hatters' late equaliser against Arsenal in the 1988 final.

The former Northern Ireland international spent three years at Luton before he left to join Sheffield Wednesday in 1990 for his first spell in the Steel City.

He soon replicated his Luton success at Hillsborough as he was part of the Owls side that defeated Manchester United to win the League Cup in 1991.

First joining Barnsley in 1993, Wilson replaced Viv Anderson as manager the following year.

During the 1996/97 season, Wilson guided the Tykes to the Premier League as Division One runners-up - the first time in the club's 110 year history that Barnsley had won promotion to the top division of English football.

However, Barnsley's stay in the Premier League lasted just one season and Wilson returned to his old club Sheffield Wednesday in the summer of 1998.

The Owls had slumped since Wilson's playing days at the club, finishing just 16th in the Premier League the season before he took over.

Wilson guided Sheffield Wednesday to a respectable 12th place Premier League finish during the 1998/99 season, and had hopes for a top half finish the following season. However, he was sacked the following March, having led the club only towards relegation.

Following spells at Bristol City and MK Dons, Wilson was appointed as manager of Hartlepool United in June 2006. During his first season at the club, he led Hartlepool to second place in League Two, winning promotion back to League One in the process.

After departing Hartlepool, Wilson was named Sheffield United manager in a controversial move in May 2011.

Losing in the League One Play-Off Final in his first season at Bramall Lane, the Blades had looked favourites to win promotion back to the Championship in 2012/13.

However, despite a strong start to the season, Sheffield United once again missed out, resulting in Wilson losing his job in April 2013 after a poor run of results.

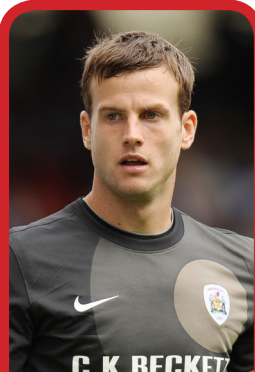

Returning to Barnsley in December 2013, 15 years after his previous departure, Wilson took over with the Tykes at the foot of the Championship table.

However, as the current campaign enters its final weeks, the 54-year-old has given the club a fighting chance of safety, lifting them off the bottom and to within touching distance of the teams outside the drop-zone.

LOOKINGBACK

Last season marked our first meetings with Barnsley since Wanderers last won promotion to the Premier League back in 2001.

Having seen the clash at BL6 end in a stalemate as future White Craig Davies cancelled out namesake Kevin's opener to earn the Tykes a share of the points, Bolton travelled to Oakwell in March 2013 eager to keep up their strong recent run against the Yorkshire club.

With the Tykes not having won in this fixture since their own brief dalliance with the top flight in 1998, all signs pointed to another good result for Bolton, despite Barnsley entering the fixture top of the Championship form table.

Although unbeaten at home in 2013, Barnsley still found themselves firmly in relegation trouble coming into the tie.

Meanwhile, Dougie Freedman's side were also full of confidence as they looked to extend a five-match unbeaten run and continue their late push for a play-off place.

And it was Bolton who started brightest at Oakwell, opening the scoring in the opening 15 minutes from their first shot at goal.

Pouncing on a defensive mix-up in the Barnsley penalty area, winger Chris Eagles stole possession before teeing up David Ngog, allowing the Frenchman to volley Bolton into an early lead with a well-placed strike.

Having joined Wanderers from Barnsley in January, Craig Davies was facing his former club for the first time and the Welsh international came close to marking the occasion with a goal as he curled an effort from range just wide of the woodwork.

However, the Whites did soon have their second goal as Jay Spearing took advantage of some lacklustre Barnsley defending.

Picking up the ball 25 yards from goal after the Tykes had struggled to clear their lines, the Liverpool loanee rifled home a fierce effort beyond the grasp of the scrambling Luke Steele to seemingly put Bolton firmly in control of the contest.

Barnsley however had other ideas. With the interval coming at the perfect time for David Flitcroft's men, they soon found their way back into the tie as Tomasz Cywka halved the deficit within 90 seconds of the restart.

Receiving the ball outside, the Pole cut in before curling a unstoppable effort from distance into Adam Bogdan's top right-hand corner.

With their tails lifted, the Tykes pushed for an equaliser and got their rewards just six minutes later as Chris O'Grady - Craig Davies' replacement at Oakwell - brought his side level.

Making his home debut for Barnsley, Manchester United loanee Ryan Tunnicliffe played the ball in from the right across the face of goal to isolate Bogdan, allowing the grateful O'Grady to gleefully side-foot the ball home into an empty net from six yards to level the scores.

Awakened by the hosts' quick start to the second half, Wanderers quickly fought back as they looked to ensure that what had at one point looked like a certain three points did not slip through their fingers against the struggling Tykes.

They did not have to wait long to re-take the lead, as defender Martin Crainie fouled Ngog on the end of Barnsley penalty area.

Up stepped Marcos Alonso to take the set-piece, and although his ferocious strike was initially kept out by Steele, defender Dawson was on hand to hammer home the rebound after Steele's fumble.

Eager to once again draw level, Barnsley swept forward and should have scored their third, only for Jim O'Brien to fire straight at Bogdan when one-on-one.

At the other end Eagles twice came to close to wrapping up the points for Wanderers, only to see two strikes hacked off the line in quick succession.

Tykes substitutes Jacob Mellis and Jason Scotland both wasted chances late on as the home side fought to secure an equalising goal, but Bolton held on to extend their unbeaten run and leave Barnsley just one point off the relegation zone.

NEW MEMBERS WELCOME IN TRUST'S FEMALE TEAMS

Bolton Wanderers Community Trust are in the process of developing women's and girls' football across the Bolton area.

As part of the Community Trust's link with Bolton Wanderers Ladies Football Club, we currently run two junior teams - an Under 10 side that compete in the North Manchester Girls League and an Under 14 team who play in the North Valley League.

All the girls that are involved in the Under 10s team train on a Friday night at the development centre which is currently being held at The Eddie Davies Academy, Lostock Lane, BL6 4BJ from 5:30pm to 6:30pm or at Westhoughton High School every Tuesday evening from 5pm to 6pm.

The girls that are involved in the Under 14s team currently train at Horwich RMI every Tuesday from 6:30pm to 7:30pm.

Bolton Wanderers Ladies first and reserve teams currently train at The Eddie Davies Academy, Lostock Lane, BL6 4BJ every Thursday from 7-8pm with the sides competing in the North West Women's Regional Football League and the Lancashire Ladies League respectively.

The teams are both doing well this season, but new players are always welcome.

The aim for next year's campaign is to create more teams at different age groups to then compete in a league and for the girls to play on a weekly basis.

For more information on the Community Trust's teams and how to get involved, please contact Emily Ashworth by emailing eashworth@bwct.org.uk or calling 01204 673790.

CHAPLAIN'S VIEW

BEYOND THE 90

Remembering the 96

On April 15, 1989, 24,000 Liverpool fans travelled to a football match. 96 never returned. In 2014, the 25th anniversary year of the Hillsborough Disaster, we here at Bolton Wanderers, along with the wider footballing world, remember those who lost their lives.

Collectively, they've become known as The 96 but to the families and friends they left behind, they were simply a father, a son, a brother and a sister, a cousin, an auntie, an uncle and a grandad, a boyfriend, a husband, a soul mate and a best friend.

As the wife of one of the supporters who never came home so eloquently put it in a letter published on the Liverpool FC website, "To the world my husband is one of the 96, but to me and his children, he was always our number one."

As stated on the Hillsborough page of the Reds' website, "24,000 tickets, 23 turnstiles, two overcrowded pens, 96 dead and 766 people injured - numbers alone don't even begin to tell half the story of a disaster that has shaped Liverpool Football Club and the fans that will forever follow it."

Behind the numbers are stories of loved ones lost who simply went to enjoy a game as you and I are doing today.

They never returned home and for years, their families have not only had to live with such a loss but with the shadow of that day and how the story has been retold in a way that has shown real insensitivity and dishonour to those who were lost that day.

Our thoughts and prayers continue for the families of those who lost their loved ones as we remember the events of April 15, 1989 and how the fans who died should never be forgotten.

Help Ellis' Daddy raise £100,000 to find a cure for Ellis

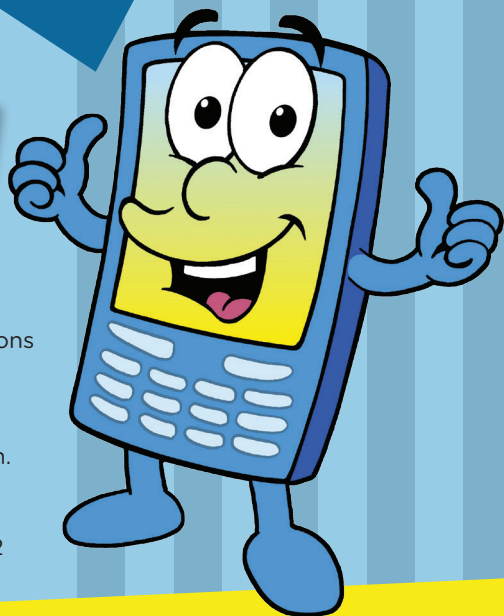

Richard Page is cycling 3,500 miles to all of Leicester City's Sky Bet Championship away games to raise money for his son, Ellis, who suffers from MECP2 Duplication Syndrome

The condition means that Ellis may never walk or talk, and suffers from chest infections and seizures, brought on by epilepsy.

Sky Bet, the title sponsor of the Football League, are backing Richard as he tries to raise £100,000 for the text"ellis" campaign.

With these funds, research can begin into finding a cure for Ellis, after an exciting breakthrough led to the reversal of MECP2 Duplication Syndrome in mice.

LEICESTER CITY

Promotion winners Leicester City are the next team to make the trip to BL6 on Tuesday 22 April, kick off 8pm.

Currently sitting six points ahead of second placed Burnley with five games of their domestic campaign left to play, Nigel Pearson's Foxes have already secured their place amongst England's elite next term but will be looking to end their campaign on a high by lifting the Championship trophy next month.

A side who have been exiled from the top flight for the best part of a decade with their last stint being an ill-fated term back in 2003/04 - a season which saw Leicester return to the second tier after just a solitary campaign - the club's imminent promotion to the Premier League is one which has undoubtedly been deserved given their impressive form.

With two play-off semi-final defeats under their belts in the past five years, the Foxes' upturn in fortunes of late has arguably been down to the installation of manager Pearson at the King Power Stadium in November 2011.

A man who had previously experienced a stint in charge of the club, the former Sheffield Wednesday defender's decision to take over the reins at Hull City in the summer of 2010 was one which was met with collective disappointment by the Leicester City faithful.

After just one full season with the Tigers however, Pearson was convinced to return to the East Midlands and he hasn't looked back since.

Having secured respectable finishes of ninth and sixth in the Sky Bet Championship league standings during the past two seasons, the 50-year-old has proven himself to be a shrewd operator in the transfer market with the acquisitions of players such as Kevin Phillips, Anthony Knockaert and Jamie Vardy - figures who have all proven themselves to be influential for the Foxes this term.

A team that Wanderers are more than aware of following a 5-3 defeat at the King Power Stadium back in December, the Whites themselves have something of a Leicester City influence in their ranks in the form of on-loan midfielder Neil Danks and striker Jermaine Beckford who signed permanently from City last summer.

A man who struggled to make his mark with the Foxes, the 29-year-old frontman has certainly not had the same problem at BL6, currently topping Wanderers' goal scoring charts with eight goals in all competitions - a statistic that has only been hampered due to a two month spell on the sidelines with a hamstring injury.

Leicester themselves however boast their own threat upfront in the evergreen David Nugent, with the former Bury striker having found the back of the net on no less than 20 occasions this season.

With Pearson's men having proven themselves to be as lethal on their travels as on their own turf during the current campaign with 12 victories, four draws and just four defeats, Wanderers will be aiming to avenge the season's earlier defeat and end their own domestic term on a high.

MANBEHIND THE MIC

Philip Gittins
Wanderers Player commentator

Good afternoon and welcome back to the Reebok as for the third time in a week the Whites encounter opponents from across the Pennines with Barnsley today's visitors.

Having already accounted for Huddersfield and Doncaster over the last seven days, Wanderers will look to make it a hat-trick of wins over their Yorkshire rivals this afternoon.

Twelve points behind sixth placed Reading with only five to play, the Whites' improved form over the last couple of months has come too late to mount a challenge at the top end of the table this time around, but with one eye on next season it certainly offers grounds for much optimism.

Following last Saturday's hard fought victory at Huddersfield, Dougie Freedman spoke of his delight with the spirit and togetherness that his side had displayed in withstanding all that Mark Robins' team had to throw at them, before sealing victory through Joe Mason's stoppage time strike.

Those qualities were once again on show at the Keepmoat Stadium on Tuesday evening as, having played some of their finest football of the season, racing into a two goal lead within the first 15 minutes, Wanderers then showed their resilience and ability to dig in as the hosts pressed for an equalising goal that never materialised.

Without question all successful sides have the flair and creativity to carve out goalscoring opportunities as well as the personnel to convert them, but they also have a will to win and determination to do the less glamorous aspects of the game well, battering down the hatches collectively for the greater good when the need arises.

Over the last couple of months, with only one defeat in their last 11 outings, Wanderers have demonstrated that as a team they possess all those attributes as they look to finish as highly as possible in the table, with ending the season on a positive note something that will undoubtedly help the manager with any recruitment over the summer.

For this afternoon, the focus will be on extending the unbeaten run to six against a Barnsley side that will arrive determined to pick up all three points as they look to climb away from the lower reaches of the table.

Our visitors from Oakwell will be very difficult opponents and we will need to be at our best if we are to achieve a repeat of our victory in the corresponding fixture in South Yorkshire on Boxing Day where Neil Danns' second half strike presented the Whites faithful with a belated Christmas present.

Enjoy the game!
